Singapore, 7 April 2026 — EtonHouse International Education Group (EtonHouse Group) has been named the Top Employer in the Education category at the 2026 Asia CEO Summit & Awards Ceremony, organised by Influential Brands, reaffirming its position as a progressive and caring employer in Singapore. The winners of the Top Employer Award are recognised by their very own employees based on anonymous employee engagement surveys.

This prestigious award is a significant milestone, reflecting EtonHouse Group's continued commitment to excellence in human capital, employee engagement and company culture.

EtonHouse Group's people-first culture is reflected in:

- A workplace built on trust, transparency and shared ownership
- Active employee engagement through feedback channels and open dialogue
- Continuous professional development, including international learning opportunities such as the Reggio Emilia International Study Group
- A holistic wellbeing approach, including flexible work practices and its partnership with The Contentment Foundation
- Purpose-driven initiatives such as the 30 Years in Motion: The EtonHouse Challenge, supporting children and youth from disadvantaged backgrounds
- A diverse, globally minded workforce fostering a connected and supportive community

Together, these efforts create an environment where individuals are empowered to grow and thrive both professionally and personally.

Evelyn Tay, CEO, Singapore and Group CHRO of EtonHouse Group says, "Being recognised as Singapore's Top Employer is a meaningful affirmation of what we stand for at EtonHouse. At the heart of our organisation is a deep respect for every voice, where diversity of thought, culture and experience strengthens who we are and how we learn together.

At EtonHouse, we believe that growth begins with ownership. Our people are encouraged to embrace challenges, reflect deeply and continually develop themselves, both professionally and personally. This commitment to learning fuels our curiosity, innovation and shared purpose to make a positive difference in education and beyond. Most importantly, this recognition belongs to our community. When we empower one another to thrive, support collaboration and uplift those around us, we create an environment where individuals and teams can truly flourish. I am deeply proud of everyone at EtonHouse, whose passion, care and commitment bring our values to life every day."

Mr. Jorge Rodriguez, Managing Director of Influential Brands says "EtonHouse's recognition as a Top Employer is a testament to its strong people practices and values-led leadership. The employee engagement survey highlighted a consistently strong and positive working culture with excellent performance across key engagement drivers including Diversity, Pride, Purpose, Values, Open Communication, and a genuine commitment to employee well-being - reflecting high levels of advocacy and trust among employees. This places EtonHouse on par with the high standards demonstrated by our past Top Employer awardees and establishes EtonHouse as a Top Employer in the education sector."

The Top Employer Award, one of the awards presented by Influential Brands annually during the Asia CEO Summit & Awards Ceremony, recognises companies that have placed efforts in their most important asset: their people. This accolade is a reflection of EtonHouse Group's continued commitment to nurturing its people and strengthening its position as an employer of choice within the education sector.
