Your Guide to the

EtonHouse China Immersion Programme

A practical guide to choosing between Pure Mandarin School Immersion and Cultural Immersion

Open to all families with children between 3 – 8 years old.
For both EtonHouse and non EtonHouse students

Pure Mandarin School Immersion	Cultural Immersion
5 days of school immersion A full week in school where Mandarin becomes part of your child's everyday rhythm through classroom life, play, and local peer interaction.	3 days of school immersion + 2 days of enriching cultural excursions A balanced week combining Mandarin school immersion with 2 guided excursion days that bring China's culture and stories to life.

Start here: Which programme suits your family?

Choose the pathway that best fits your child. Both pathways help children meet Mandarin in real life, not just as a subject.

Decision Point	Pure Mandarin School Immersion	Cultural Immersion
Best for	Children who are ready to embrace school life and build Mandarin confidence through a full week of Mandarin routines, purposeful play, inquiry, and friendships.	Families who want their child to experience school life while exploring the richness of China together through guided cultural excursions.
Week structure	5 full school days.	3 full school days + 2 curated excursion days.
Parent role	Parents drop off and pick up. Daily updates are shared via WeChat.	One parent accompanies child on excursion days, creating shared memories that enrich the learning experience.
Cities	Beijing, Chengdu, Suzhou	Chengdu and Suzhou
Recommended age	Open to ages 3 to 8	Open to ages 3 to 8 Recommended for age 5+, when children are best able to participate and fully enjoy the guided excursions.

Pure Mandarin School Immersion - Depth Pathways
Pathways	Duration	Benefits
1) Discover	1 week	A positive first step into Mandarin immersion. Your child becomes comfortable with the environment, learns key routines and begins trying useful Mandarin. This is an ideal introduction for families who want their child to experience immersion.
2) Connect	2-3 weeks	More time turns familiarity into confidence. With repeated practice and growing friendships, your child is more likely to communicate spontaneously, use a wider range of practical Mandarin and participate more independently.
3) Deepen	4+ weeks	The strongest opportunity for meaningful and lasting growth. Extended immersion gives your child time to use Mandarin naturally across different situations. They can sustain longer interactions, express their own ideas, develop independence and build a deeper connection with the language and culture

Why choose a longer pathway?

The benefits of immersion grow with time. Once your child feels secure and forms trusting relationships, they begin using Mandarin more naturally, with confidence and independence. A longer pathway offers the repetition and meaningful daily interactions that help language take root. Your child has more opportunities to think, play, build friendships and express their own ideas in Mandarin, creating deeper learning that continue well beyond the programme.

How Mandarin Comes Alive For Your Child

Language confidence grows through small, repeated moments: hearing Mandarin at snack time, joining a game, greeting a new friend, and finding the courage to express themselves in Mandarin. This programme gives children a supportive, real-school environment where Mandarin feels natural, meaningful, and part of their world.

In school	How it builds Mandarin fluency and confidence
Full Mandarin Environment	Our schools are local preschools where most children and teachers are native Mandarin speakers. Mandarin is the language of instruction, play and everyday interaction, giving your child meaningful exposure throughout the entire school day.
Authentic class placement	Children join age-appropriate classes alongside local students, so Mandarin is not a lesson on the side. It becomes the language of the day.
Student buddy support	Each child will be assigned a local student buddy in class.
Highly experienced early childhood educators	Our experienced and qualified preschool educators will help your child settle in, participate, and try new things at a comfortable pace.
Daily rhythm	Classroom learning, play, meals, routines, and inquiry give your child plenty of opportunities to hear, understand, and use Mandarin.
Small group inquiry	Your child will be placed in small groups for collaborative inquiry-based learning, creating more opportunities for meaningful Mandarin engagement.

School hours:

- Beijing: 9:00 AM - 4:00 PM
- Suzhou: 8:00 AM - 4:00 PM
- Chengdu: 9:00 AM - 5:00 PM

Excursion Days

The Cultural Immersion pathway includes 2 parent-accompanied excursion days that end between 3 - 4pm. Thoughtfully curated for young learners, these experiences transform Chinese culture and history into something children can see, feel, explore, and remember.

Evening Excursions:

- Suzhou includes an evening excursion ending at 8:00 PM.
- Chengdu includes an evening excursion ending at 9:30 PM.

Helping Your Child Feel Safe, Confident, and Ready

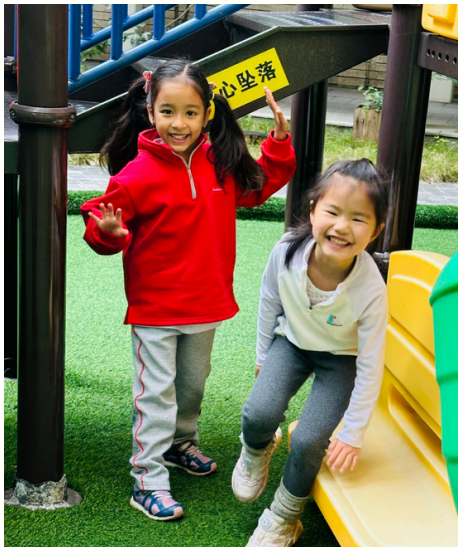

A new country, new classroom, and new language environment can feel big for a young child. The programme includes thoughtful preparation and gentle support so children can arrive feeling safe, familiar, and ready to explore and learn.

Stages	How your child is supported
Before the trip	• Before the programme begins, you'll receive an Emotional Readiness/First Day Guide, with videos of the school, classroom, principal, core teacher, and daily schedule, along with gentle prompts to help you talk to your child about the experience. • By seeing the environment and people in advance, your child can arrive feeling more comfortable, secure, and ready.
First day	• Parents are invited to join a school tour and accompany their child to the classroom for drop-off. • If your child needs more time, our cosy corner offers a calm space where you can stay and support them until they feel ready.
During the week	• Comfort items are encouraged to help your child feel secure in a new environment. • Mandarin is the main language in school, but English-speaking teachers are available to reassure and support children when needed.

Mandarin comes alive when children can feel it, hear it, play with it, and use it to connect with the world around them.

Frequently Asked Questions

Who is this programme suitable for?
Designed for children aged 3 to 8 years, this programme is open to both EtonHouse and non-EtonHouse families, and welcomes children of all Mandarin proficiency levels.

Is there a minimum age for each programme?
Both programmes are open to children aged 3 to 8 years old. Cultural Immersion is recommended for age 5+ because children at that age are typically better able to engage with and enjoy the curated cultural and immersive experiences.

Will the curriculum be adapted for one-week exchange students?
Yes. Selected elements are adapted to support exchange students, including cultural sharing, guided interactions, inquiry, and collaborative experiences with local peers. Children also participate in the school's regular curriculum and daily routines.

What is the teacher to child ratio?
Class sizes typically range from 20 to 30+ children, supported by 2 to 4 teachers and/or teaching assistants depending on age group. Additional staff are deployed where needed to ensure children receive the support to settle in comfortably and participate confidently.

Can the school accommodate special dietary requirements?
Yes, please notify us at least two weeks before the programme begins so arrangements can be made for allergies, Halal food, or other dietary requirements.

Is it compulsory for my child to attend all five days of the programme?
Attendance for all five days is strongly encouraged because the experience builds across the week. Programme fees are fixed and will not be prorated for missed days.

My child is 7 or 8 years old. Which class will they join?
Children aged 7 and 8 years old will join the K2 class in our EtonHouse schools, where they will participate in engaging and age appropriate learning experiences alongside their peers in a supportive and immersive environment.

What is the class demographics like? Are all students local?
The majority of students are local, with a small number of international students.

What is the minimum enrolment required?
The Pure Mandarin School Immersion Programme does not require a minimum number to commence. Cultural Immersion Programme requires a minimum number of 10 children to proceed. If the minimum enrolment is not met at least two months before departure, the programme will be cancelled and deposits fully refunded.
